State Collecting More:

County PVA Explains Tax Changes

By LOWELL ATCHLEY
Murray Ledger & Times Staff Writer
There's a new wrinkle in the property tax computation and collection system this year.

Few county taxpayers notice it. But, according to Property Valuation Administrator Charles Hale, some city taxpayers can't understand why their county tax bills are higher. What they often fail to mention, Hale said recently, is their city tax bills are lower.

On county tax bills, the change is simple — where the state last year collected .015-cents per each $100 assessed on real estate it now collects .315-cents per each $100. The reason has to do with a new state law, in effect for the first time this year, called "Power Equalization."

Jack Rose, Calloway County school superintendent, said that where taxpayers last year paid .359-cents per $100 assessed directly to the county school system, this year they are paying only .06-cents directly to the local school systems.

Under "Power Equalization" the state is collecting the .30-cents and will send money back to local systems under a "Power Equalization" formula.

For city taxpayers living in the Murray Independent School District, the change on taxbills is more noticeable, Hale said.

City taxpayers last year paid .581-cents to the school district. This year they're paying .284-cents to the local school system. The remaining .30-cents is computed on county tax bills.

Hale said city taxpayers opened envelopes to find "lower" city tax bills in August, but county bills, which came later, were "higher."

"The rate shift on tax bills has caused misunderstanding and possibly disillusionment among city taxpayers," Hale said. "People who received their bills in August had no questions at all!" Hale remarked. He added some 25-30 city taxpayers have questioned the shift.

The "disillusionment" is due to city taxpayers thinking they're getting a break on city taxes when in reality they're not, Hale said.

"There's going to be some difference because of the variance in tax rates, but not much," Hale said.

The 1977 tax rate for countians in the "common" school district is .573 per each $100 assessed on real estate and .708 per each $100 on tangible. "Graded school" rates are .513 on real estate and .648 on tangible. City tax rates are .694 on real estate and .694 on tangible.

According to Rose, the theory behind "Power Equalization" is to equalize per pupil spending among all school districts, bringing poorer school districts in line with wealthier ones.

Gas Price Fillibuster Leader To Continue Block On Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of a Senate filibuster on natural gas pricing said today he's ready to continue blocking legislation to raise the national debt ceiling until the Senate rejects a proposal to free gas from price controls.

The move by Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., threatens the government's ability to pay its bills.

If the debt ceiling bill is not passed by Saturday morning, the beginning of the new fiscal year, the government will lose authority to borrow money to pay bills. In holding the debt measure hostage to the natural gas bill, Abourezk hopes to force the Senate to reject an industry supported plan to lift price controls from natural gas.

"This will mean government won't be able to write any more checks," Abourezk said. But he said he was prepared to continue to object to efforts to pass the debt-ceiling bill "until we're done with the natural gas issue."

Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn., called Abourezk's

tactics "unconscionable."

Baker and Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, meanwhile, reported little progress in efforts to resolve the stalemate that has stalled Senate action on the natural gas portion of President Carter's energy program for 10 days.

Baker said there is only a "fifty-fifty chance" that competing sides in the issue will be able to even agree to set a time to vote on various alternatives. A Saturday Senate session was scheduled and Baker said it might be another week before the issue is finally resolved.

Fall Fire Seasons

Begins October 1

"We will soon have our first frost. This will cause leaves to fall, vegetation to die out, and will greatly increase our fire danger for the fall fire season that began October 1 and goes through December 15 said Calloway County Forest Ranger Albert (Took) Wilson. A large number of fires are started each year by people burning trash, leaves, grass, and brush, he said.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry will have its plane in the air beginning October 1 to look for any fires that will be burning before 4:30 p.m.

Calloway County Forest Ranger Wilson reminds the public that on this date, October 1, the Kentucky 4:30 burning law goes into effect, and it briefly states that it will be unlawful to do any burning before 4:30 p.m. "Anyone violating this will be cited into court," states Wilson. "Nothing can be more costly to crops, woodland, and even your home than a wildfire; and if it starts from your fire, you are responsible for all damages plus the cost of suppression," Wilson said.

Citizens of Calloway County can help this situation in a realistic way by waiting until after 4:30 p.m. to burn. After 4:30 p.m. the wind has usually died down and there is more moisture in the air, enabling a fire to be controlled much easier, Wilson added.

Before persons do any burning, please call Albert "Took" Wilson, Forest Ranger for Calloway County, or the District Office in Mayfield at 247-3913. Wilson's telephone number is 436-2152.

The clinic hours will be from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Meteorologists Say Odds Against Repeat Of Last Winter's Weather

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Meteorologists are saying the odds are 30 to 1 against a repetition of the bitter cold and snow of last winter, but nature's warnings to the contrary are beginning to show in the folklore signs.

Kentucky farmers say the signs are clear.

The hair on the bellies of the cattle is thick, shucks cling tightly to ears of corn, there's a plentiful supply of nuts, early flocks of geese have been seen headed south, the intrepid woolly bear caterpillar is a solid dark color and ... gulp, there were 15 fogs in August.

Folklore says that the number of fogs in August determines the number of snows for the coming winter. One of the fogs here was a heavy one, the National Weather Service notes, and country weather watchers say that means get out the snow shovels.

"There's a heavy mess of acorns," George Culver, 76, of Culverton said. "These old timers around here say when there's plenty of acorns, there's going to be a hard winter."

"The hickorynuts are plentiful," Nelson Adams of Squib, Ky. said. "I even found some grown together. One was two nuts together and another three nuts together. I just don't know what to make of that."

While entomologists generally agree that there's no significance to the color of woolly bear caterpillars since different species of the furry little critters are different colors, folklore disagrees.

If the woolly bear has dark, wide bands of color around his middle, folklore assures, you can be sure of a hard winter ahead.

"The purple martins left Aug. 6 ... unusually early, and the old folks say this is a sign of a hard winter," Bill Mardis, a columnist for the Commonwealth Journal at Somerset, Ky. said.

Mardis ended a recent column with a warning that couldn't have been clearer:

"Friends, I seed a woolly worm humpin' across the Cumberland Parkway yestiddy headin' south as hard as he could go. He wuz as black as an ace 'uv spades ... an awful good sign 'uv a cold winter to come."

Police Checking On Hubcap Thefts Here

A Murray Police Department investigation into a stolen hubcap incident Thursday night at a local car lot is continuing.

According to police, Caldwell Used Cars, North 4th, Murray, reported 13 hubcaps missing from a number of autos on Friday.

Police said car lot owners placed the loss at over $100 because new wire hubcaps were missing.

amount of marijuana plus paraphernalia in the raid, Manning said.

Manning said the raid was the culmination of a Murray Police Department investigation. The house, he said, had been under observation for some weeks before the raid.

According to Calloway County Quarterly Court officials, the four appeared before Judge Robert O. Miller this morning. A 2:30 p.m. Oct. 13 hearing date is set, according to court officials.

Four Arrested In Raid Here Thursday Night

Four men face an Oct. 13 Calloway County Quarterly Court hearing date following a Murray Police Department raid Friday about 3 a.m.

The raid at a Hamilton Street residence netted Murray Police with what Brent Manning, police chief, called a "quantity of marijuana." All four men have been released on $500 bonds facing charges of illegal possession of marijuana for the purpose of resale.

According to Manning, Murray Police arrested and charged 19-year-old Russell S. Mills, Madisonville, Thomas D. Ellis, 21, Louisville, Steven C. Metzger, 21, Louisville, and Ryan T. Hennessey, 21, Louisville.

Police raided a house, where the four were staying, at 1609 Hamilton, Manning said. Murray Police confiscated an as of yet undetermined

Local Share Of National Debt Now Over $2 Million

What effect will the recent action of Congress, raising the ceiling on the national debt by $75 billion, have on Calloway County residents?

How much of the money that the Federal government is collecting this year from the local area, by way of income taxes, excise taxes and the like, is needed to meet the annual interest charges on that debt, which is now in the neighborhood of $700 billion?

The local share of these carrying charges is approximately $2,204,000, it is estimated. That covers only the interest on the debt. It does not reduce the principal at all.

The debt itself has been growing by leaps and bounds over the years. At one time, going back to 1940, it was only $42 billion. This was equivalent to $320 per capita nationally. By 1960 it was up to $291 billion, or $1,585 per capita, and by 1970, to $383 billion, equal to $1,880.

Now, at $700 billion, it works out to $3,240 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Were there any plan to pay off that debt, which there isn't, that is how much would be involved.

As for the interest on the current debt, it amounts to some $40 billion a year. That is just about the total provided for the budget for health services.

Residents of Calloway County, in line with their normal share of the national tax burden, are now paying close to $440 per family toward the annual interest charges, it is estimated.

This is 118 per cent more than was called for in 1970, when the carrying costs were only $18.3 billion a year.

The recent increase in the debt ceiling, requested by the Administration and approved by Congress, brings the allowable debt limit to $775 billion. Continued deficit spending has made it necessary.

There is little concern among economists, however, over the rise in the nation's debt. They point out that the economy has also been expanding over the years and that the debt today, relative to the gross national product, is less than it was a decade or two ago.

Marriage Choking From Smoking Wife

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I first dated my wife she was 16. On our third date, when she asked me to buy her a pack of cigarettes, I told her I thought girls who smoked looked like tramps, and that was the last time I'd take her out. Three months later she called and told me she'd quit smoking, so I started dating her again. We dated for three years during which time she never smoked in my presence, so with a solemn promise that she'd never smoke again, we were married.

She kept her promise for three years. Then I started to find evidence that she was smoking again. When I confronted her, she denied it.

For the last 10 years, she's been smoking openly and I detest it. What can I do? I've told her it was useless for her to spend a fortune on expensive clothes because when she lights a cigarette, she looks like a $20 hooker.

I have nothing against smokers. In fact, if I could find one who didn't smoke I could use her services because my wife's tobacco habit has certainly put a crimp in our love life.

DETESTS CIGARETTES

DEAR DETESTS: What can you do? Love her or leave her. But don't nag her, or she'll increase her smoking as an excuse to calm her frazzled nerves.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 48 and my fiancée is 55. I've been divorced 15 years, and his wife died five years ago. We've been going together for two years and plan to marry soon. He always compliments me on the way I look. I do dress nicely and am always perfectly groomed. Now for my problem:

When I was in my teens, I was very ill and all my hair fell out. I have no eyelashes, eyebrows, and not a hair on my head. I am completely hairless.

I wear false eyelashes and a wig, and I paint my eyebrows on.

I'm a very honest person, and don't like to keep this from him, but I'm afraid of how he'll react. I've started to tell him several times, but couldn't get the words out.

My mother says I should wait until after we're married to tell him. My father says I should tell him now.

Do you think it would change his feelings for me? He says he loves me, and I know I love him. Please help me.

WIGGED OUT

DEAR WIGGED: Tell him. If it changes his feelings for you, you're better off knowing it now. If he really loves you, it won't matter. (Many women marry bald MEN.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had dinner with my parents, my brother and sister-in-law, and their 14-month-old baby.

For two and one-half hours, we talked either about or to the baby, who was allowed to toddle around the dinner table the entire time. We all had to watch our food and coffee every minute.

There was absolutely no chance to visit. All the conversation was centered around the baby. At first I was just annoyed, but then I became bored stiff and, finally, angry. Am I intolerant?

Abby, please say something about parents who monopolize the conversation with talk about their children and permit the child to be the center of attention for an entire evening.

BORED IN LONG BEACH

DEAR BORED: Your complaint is neither uncommon nor unjustified. Parents, please note.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Karen McClure and Wayne Fleming Are Married At United Methodist Church

Miss Karen McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.O. (Bill) McClure of Murray, became the bride of Wayne Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan E. (Bud) Fleming, Marseilles, Ill., in a double ring ceremony on September 10 at two p.m.

The Rev. Thomas E. Lowry, pastor of the United Methodist Church, Marseilles, performed the ceremony in the beautiful church. Prior to the ceremony Beverly Gondolfi presented a musical selection of traditional music. LeAnn Baudino sang, "The Wedding Song" and "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Terry Fletcher on the piano as the ceremony started.

Mike Wahlig, brother-in-law of the bride, read selections from Corinthians, Genesis, and John and a selection on marriage from the Prophet. The vows were exchanged, before an altar arrangement of ivory gladioli and fuji mums.

Bride's Dress

The bride escorted to the altar by her father and shared in marriage by her parents, wore a floor length Ivory Quiana gown which extended into a deep V bodice, all of Venice lace. Delicate cords encircled the empire waistling and tied in back with streamers. A full chapel length train completed the skirt.

Her silk illusion veil was Cathedral length and caught to an intricate lace headpiece. The illusion was bordered with Venice lace matching the dress. The exquisite veil was designed and created by Gail Wahlig, sister of the bride.

She carried a fantasy cascade bouquet of fuji mums, ivory miniature carnations, stephanotis, moss green star flowers and ivy.

As she was escorted to the altar, she presented her mother and the groom's mother each a long stem white rose from her bouquet.

Gail Wahlig, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Pat Holton, childhood friend of the bride, the bridesmaid.

They both wore identical gowns of emerald green quiana floor length flared dresses which were gathered into back-buttoned neckband and high-waisted inset band. The dress had elbow length cape sleeves.

Both attendants wore a gold locket presented by the bride. The girls each carried a cascade bouquet of ivory fuji mums and apricot miniature carnations with smilax.

Serving as best man was Gary Fleming, brother of the groom. The groomsmen was Mike Baudino, friend of the groom. All attendants and the

A reception followed at the Lion's Hall in Marseilles, Ill. Assisting were Pat Gatzka, Kathy Cunico, Ruth Close, Donna Gatzka, Chris Gatzka, Cathy Geurin, Cindy McPherson, and Carol Fleming.

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Carter Wins One

WASHINGTON — The shaky ceasefire that President Carter finally pulled off in southern Lebanon this week was the result of a cliffhanging drama boldly played out here, in Israel, and in Saudi Arabia totally concealed from public view.

The stakes were far higher than suspected, both for Jimmy Carter's slim hopes for an Arab-Israeli settlement and for U.S. relations with two intimate Mideast allies: Israel and Saudi Arabia.

For the first time, the President sent a tough, private warning to Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin: if he did not order marauding Israeli troops — at least two companies of infantry plus armored personnel carriers and "super-Sherman" tanks — back into Israel from southern Lebanon, Begin could not count on the good offices of the American President.

Coupled with this warning, after months of Israeli defiance over Carter peace plans, was an only marginally less stern summons to Saudi Arabia: persuade the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) to pull out of their Israeli border areas. As the PLO's chief subsidizer, the Saudis are powerful persuaders.

For Begin, the possibility of truly alienating the American President was, in the words of one Mideast expert, "a real and present danger." The implication sent Begin by top-secret diplomatic message through U.S. Ambassador Samuel W. Lewis was that the U.S. could not go on financing Israel's economy and security while Israel's army was on the loose in a neighboring country.

Adding to this pressure, Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan was bluntly told last week by a U.S. Senator and loyal friend of Israel that Begin must stop his encroachment of the occupied West Bank. "I don't have to apologize for my credentials as a friend of Israel," Sen. Abraham Ribicoff told Dayan at a closed-door luncheon given by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Sept. 20. Ribicoff then dropped this warning: more Israeli settlements on the West Bank might make it impossible for the U.S. to oppose a United Nations resolution condemning Israel.

In similar vein, Dayan also got the full force of Mr. Carter's true feelings about southern Lebanon in his talks with the President last week. Dayan, who is regarded by some diplomats here as "flexible," undoubtedly informed the prime minister following those talks that, with Mr. Carter angry over Lebanon and the U.S. Senate unhappy over the settlements, Israel might consider a tactical retreat.

That retreat led to the ceasefire in southern Lebanon, but it would not have taken place without the President's stern pressure on Saudi Arabia — a more significant player in the Arab-Israeli struggle than generally realized.

With the Saudis, Mr. Carter's tack was the preservation in good health of the U.S.-Saudi Arabian alliance: without Saudi muscle to move Palestinian guerrillas away from the Israeli border, the President would have trouble persuading Congress to approve the sale of F-15 fighter aircraft to Riyadh.

Putting the squeeze on the Saudis was, in its way, more delicate than squeezing Begin. The reason: by common consent here, the PLO guerrillas would have withdrawn from the border under arrangements agreed to earlier, but the provocation of Israel's mini-invasion changed their mind.

Such niceties of right and wrong played little part in Jimmy Carter's rising anger. The Saudis, by virtue of their tremendous wealth, were by far the most persuasive agents for dealing with the PLO. The value they place on their U.S. connection was reason enough to do as Mr. Carter asked.

What particularly made the presidential handling of this crisis between the U.S. and Israel over southern Lebanon was its novelty: it was the first clear example that Mr.

Carter may be mastering the technique of rapid, silent diplomatic movement made possible by American power exerted at the proper points in correct proportions.

Beside that, it would be a mistake to make too much of the presidential maneuvers that forced Israel back from territories she has long coveted for both security and economic reasons. For one thing, not a single U.S. politician interceded on Israel's behalf: the legal case against her was too obvious.

More important, even though southern Lebanon could have exploded into Arab-Israeli War, it was only a sideshow to the main attraction: reconvening the Arab-Israeli peace conference. It was only one part of the tangled issues, most of them procedural, that must be straightened out before the Israelis and the Arabs can be brought together at Geneva.

Thus, although Mr. Carter played his secret hand brilliantly in this sideshow, the larger issues remain impenetrable and menacing: the role of the PLO, the unavoidable question of a Palestinian homeland and the Arab demand for full Israeli withdrawal from all Arab lands captured in 1967.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, September 30, the 273rd day of 1977. There are 92 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1954, the first atomic-powered submarine, the USS Nautilus, was commissioned by the U.S. Navy.

On this date: In 1787, the sailing ship Columbia left Boston on the first voyage around the world by an American ship.

In 1882, the first hydroelectric power station in the United States was opened at Appleton, Wis.

In 1938, at a meeting in Munich, Germany, British and French leaders agreed to Nazi Germany's annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

In 1943, the British 5th Army captured Naples, Italy in World War II.

In 1946, an international military tribunal in Nuremberg, Germany found 22 top German Nazi leaders guilty of war crimes, and eleven were sentenced to death.

In 1971, the United States and the Soviet Union signed pacts designed to avoid accidental nuclear war.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson named Dean Erwin Griswold of the Harvard Law School as the new U.S. Solicitor General.

Five years ago: U.S. fighter bombers destroyed 14 planes in heavy strikes against four air bases in North Vietnam.

One year ago: Congress overrode President Gerald Ford's veto of a $56 billion appropriations bill for social services.

Today's birthdays: Writer Truman Capote is 53 years old. Actress Deborah Kerr is 56. Singer Johnny Mathis is 42.

Thought for today: Riches are not an end of life, but an instrument of life — Henry Ward Beecher, American clergyman, 1813-1887.

reached to top. The individual at the top of the pile, needs prayer and love as much as the one on the bottom.

John's Gospel in the New Testament introduces us to an up and out sinner. His name is Nicodemus and seemingly he has everything one needs to be successful. He was a member of the Sanhedrin, or the Supreme Court of his day. Nicodemus was a religious man with power, wealth, education and family. He was a successful up and out sinner. Yet, there was one thing missing in his life. Success did not give inner peace or contentment. This was why he came to Jesus.

The Church does God a great injustice by limiting its field of prospects. The man making one quarter of a million dollars per year needs Christ as much as one on welfare. Let us not shorten God's hand to save.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Sept. 26)

U.S. Congressman Carroll Hubbard has indicated that "more than 30,000 constituents in Kentucky's First Congressional District have expressed themselves in writing thus far on nine key issues" in the legislator's latest opinion poll.

The issue of the Panama Canal Treaty has sparked the greatest interest. There is strong sentiment against the Treaty in Western Kentucky with slightly more than 20,000 votes counted. Opposition has continued at ninety percent or more since the first ballots were counted early in September. The present tally is: 2,034 for the Panama Canal Treaty and 18,103 opposed.

Hubbard stated, "This heavy response to the September questionnaire is evidence of the people's concerns."

One question asked for views on continuing Saturday mail delivery. Approximately 54 percent or 10,898 favored giving up Saturday deliveries to reduce post office department costs.

Only nine percent of the respondents wanted to cut defense spending. Eight thousand of the 20,000 counted believed the defense budget should be increased. Slightly more than half of the votes tallied were for continuing at the present level.

Letter To The Editor

On Arms Control

Dear Editor:

One is surprised that Dr. Herndon would cite the right of Americans "to own and bear arms," guaranteed by an amendment to the Constitution, in his argument against gun control. It is a well-known fact that the amendment refers to the right of states to raise militia units and not to the individual's right to bear arms.

Dr. Herndon refers to "irresponsible do-gooders" who wish to control the use of guns — he might exercise a bit of responsibility himself.

Yours truly,
Al Perry

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE: My husband retired last year and he just sits around the house. I feel he needs a hobby, but he thinks of them as kids' stuff. Can you give me some information so I can stop him from dying of boredom?—S.W.

A. In a recent survey, several hundred retired persons gave credit to a hobby as chief life-saver during their retirement years. Your husband might be surprised to learn how many highly esteemed skills and artistic achievements have resulted from hobbies. Some hobbyists have achieved greater renown in their retirement than they had in their business or professional careers.

Even if your husband does not win fame and fortune, the pleasure and satisfaction that the right hobby will bring him will add a glow to his retirement years. We have prepared a list of hobbies and a list of books on the subject. To receive your free lists, write "Heartline-Hobbies," 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Please send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HEARTLINE: Can you tell me what is meant by a "limited-coverage" health insurance policy?—T.D.

A. Some companies issue limited-coverage policies at an understandably low cost. Examples are cancer policies or accident policies which cover only certain injuries. Under such plans, all risks, other than those stated in the policy, are excluded.

For people who have problems understanding their health insurance, Heartline has developed "Heartline's Guide to Health Insurance." This book covers major questions you will have concerning the purchase of health insurance, Medicare supplements and disability income policies. There is also a policy checklist which will help you in asking questions of an insurance agent.

To order your copy, send $1.50 to "Heartline's Guide to Health Insurance," Box 4994, Des Moines, Iowa 50306. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

HEARTLINE: I am drawing Social Security disability for myself, as does my daughter. I am divorced and my husband pays me child support benefits. I am going to apply for Supplemental Security Income benefits also. Will the money that I receive for child support be counted as income when I apply for Supplemental Security Income?—D.B.

A. Two-thirds of the money you receive for child support payments will be counted as income when figuring your income for Supplemental Security Income benefits. The other third is not counted as income.

Judging And Forgiving

By H.C. Chiles

John 8:3-7

While Christ was teaching in the temple at Jerusalem, the scribes and Pharisees, who repeatedly sought opportunities to take advantage of and to entrap Christ, brazenly barged into His presence, bringing to Him a woman whom they had snoopily caught in the act of adultery. According to the law of Moses (Deuteronomy 22:23-24) such a person should be stoned when her sin was attested to by two persons. These critics asked Christ if the law of Moses should be administered in this case or would He propose another rule for them to go by? Really they were not concerned about this sinful woman, but they were vitally interested in finding some basis on which to bring both religious and civil charges against Christ. In the event that He should say that she should not be stoned to death, they would accuse Him of being an enemy of Moses and charge Him with breaking his law, which prescribed the death penalty. If Christ should agree with Moses and declare that the woman should be executed, He would then be in trouble with the Roman government, whose officials had the sole authority to impose the death penalty.

Christ did not reply to His hypocritical questioner, but stooped and wrote with His finger in the sandy soil. Since nobody knows what He wrote, any speculation on our part is unnecessary and unwise. Undaunted by His ignoring them, and thinking that perhaps they had puzzled and perplexed Him to such an extent that He did not know what to say, His questioner pressed for an immediate answer. Knowing that they wanted to murder the Messiah, Christ exposed them by saying, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." How appropriate that remark was! Christ was willing for any of them who had never committed adultery in their hearts to stone the woman for her sin. Again, Christ stooped and wrote on the ground. All of the thoroughly humiliated critics withdrew themselves with the least possible notice from others.

Luke 6:37-42

Christ devoted a part of the Sermon on the Mount to those who were addicted to the sinful habit of judging, criticizing, and condemning others. Unfortunately, some seemingly have nothing else to talk about except their acquaintances. They discuss their conduct, accuse them of having unworthy motives, repeat slanderous statements about them, and derive satisfaction from condemning them. Such an uncharitable and censorious spirit hinders Christian fellowship and hampers the work of Christ. Therefore, Christ commanded His followers to abstain from indulgence in this sin. Looking for faults and seeking to tear down others in order to build up self arrests one's intellectual and spiritual development and is a sure way of ministering to one's own wretchedness and of destroying one's usefulness. As you judge others, you will be judged. The measure you give will be the measure you get. The standard you set for others must be the measure of your own conduct. Life moves in a circle, and what we give to others we get from them. We want others to take a generous interest in us, to look for the best in us, and to help lighten our loads. Therefore, let us take a genuine interest in others, look for the best in them, and strive to lighten their burdens. In other words, treat the other fellow as you would want to be treated under similar circumstances.

And remember that a faultfinder is never a reliable factfinder. To seek the worst in others is to become blind to the best that is in them. Searching for blemishes in others causes one to treat trivial matters as though they were of major importance.

If you would overcome this hypocritical and censorious spirit recognize the sinfulness of it, repent of it, and rely upon God's grace to help you overcome it.

Explosive Eagles Could Give Racers Tough Test

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

So you like offensive football... Before the season started at Murray State University, head coach Bill Furgerson promised Racer fans would see some offensive football this season. They did. In the first two games, Racer fans saw football that was offensive to them.

So now that the Racers are straightened out and last week's 21-19 loss to Tennessee Tech produced some offensive football, rather than offending, there may be some more of the same Saturday when Morehead rolls down from the mountains to meet the Racers in Roy Stewart Stadium.

First of all, the Racers got their best performances of the season from the offensive line last week and responded with over 350 yards in total offense. With the added confidence, that's one sign fans might be in for a wild game Saturday.

The second indication on the football weather map that would make one think a wild game is in store is a big front: that front is the interior offensive line of Morehead.

The Eagles go 6-3 and 235, 6-2 and 230, 6-1 and 230, 6-2 and 235 and 6-2 and 240. Behind that front is quarterback Phil Simms who leads the Ohio Valley Conference in total yards.

"We're going to have to rush Simms effectively," said Murray coach Bill Furgerson.

"As his completion percentage indicates, he's very accurate," Furgerson added.

Simms has completed 41 of 65 passes for 613 yards...in three games. That's an average of just over 200 yards per game.

Murray quarterback Mike Dickens has passed for 333 yards in three games.

On the ground, the teams have similar statistics. Morehead has gained 375 yards, the Racers 333 yards.

The top runner for Morehead is Carl Linton with 105 yards while Murray's top runner is freshman tailback Danny Lee Johnson who has 156 yards.

So to put it quite simply, neither team has been burning up the yardage on the ground.

Furgerson said his ballclub has "quite a few bumps and bruises but nothing too serious." Wide receiver Larry Foxwell and freshman specialist Lindsey Hudspeth will both be sidelined for the game with injuries and of course, defensive back Jim O'Connor is out for the season.

Otherwise, the Racers will go into the game with the same personnel as they did last week in the loss to Tech.

The Racers had six turnovers, four fumbles and two interceptions, in last week's loss.

"You have to give Tech a lot of credit for that. We're going to have to try and eliminate our mistakes and play with the same intensity we had last week if we are to win."

"It's tough to take a loss like last week. You are so up for the game and play well but yet lose. But there were a lot of bright spots for us," Furgerson said.

"We made a defensive stand in the third quarter that forced them into a field goal situation, which they missed. Had they made that field goal, it would have just about put them out of reach."

"And though we did miss the two-point conversion that would have tied the game, I thought we played very well down the stretch in the 84-yard scoring drive in the final three minutes of the game."

"I was also quite pleased with our line play, particularly our guards. Mike Shields blocked 79 per cent and Dan Hutchison 74 per cent. We're still blessed with some depth at our runningback positions. We have two or three people in each position who can play," Furgerson said.

Morehead comes into the game 1-1-1 and the Eagles are 1-0 in the league after having won 24-21 at home over Middle Tennessee last week. The Racers are 1-2 overall and 0-1 in the league.

After the Morehead game, the Racers will go on the road for games at Martin, Middle and East Tennessee before returning home October 29 for Homecoming against Eastern Kentucky.

Saturday's 7:30 p.m. game will be the final home night game of the season.

Tiger Frosh Get 16-14 Overtime Win At Jetton

One of the Murray High freshman players summed it up the best:

"It wasn't me, it was the line," Robert Santagado told his coach, James Pigg, after scoring the winning two-point conversion Thursday night as the Tigers downed host Jetton 16-14.

"I guess that statement speaks well of the type of game we played," Coach Pigg said.

"We got good play from all our backs and good blocking. And on defense, we had a good effort from everyone," Pigg added.

At halftime, the score was tied at 8-8 and that's the way it remained until overtime.

Murray won the coin toss in the overtime and elected to play defense. Jetton took over at the 10 with four chances to score. They scored on a second and goal from the 10 an option run. The conversion run missed by only inches and Jetton settled for a 14-8 lead.

Then it came the Tigers' turn. Murray picked up five yards on their first play as fullback Al Ball carried down to the five. Then on the second play, Santagado went off right guard and carried the ball in to tie the game at 14-14.

Santagado had a large hole on the left side and waited in for the conversion.

Jetton had scored the first TD of the game early in the opening period on a 30-yard run and they added the conversion for an 8-0 lead.

Early in the second period, the Tigers capped a 70-yard sustained march with a 12-yard run off right end by Tim Foster. Foster kept on the conversion to tie the game.

One big play in the 70-yard scoring drive was a 20-yard pass play from quarterback Greg Morton to Eddie Reguarth.

Near the end of the first half, Jetton had a touchdown called back by a penalty.

They never came close to scoring again during regulation play. The Tigers moved down to the Jetton 20 in the third period but ran out of downs.

For the rest of the game, the defensive play dominated until the overtime period.

The Tiger frosh, after losing their first game of the season at Heath, stand at 2-1 on the season and will host North Marshall at 6:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Standing On The Firing Line

By Mike Brandon

Regardless Of Experts: Shavers Won

Sure Muhammad Ali won THE FIGHT. And Billy Carter also runs the country from the privy of his gas station in Plains while Jimmy is just a figurehead.

He knows it, the people of NBC know it and so do most boxing fans with any common sense.

Why? Why did Shavers not finish off Ali when the champion was hurt in the second, third and 14th rounds? Why...for one thing, Shavers was pulled back each time by the referee in the ring.

Why did the announcers at NBC continually babble about Ali scoring points with jabs? Ali missed 90 per cent of the time. And in the flurry in the 14th round, Ali did get in a couple of jabs and rights, yes. But again, almost all of them were absorbed by Shavers' gloves.

Why was Ali given points for hitting Shavers' gloves? It just doesn't make sense. And something else didn't make sense either. Old Howard Cosell, so we thought, was out of this one altogether. But darned if he didn't pop up on a commercial.

There is no way Ali won the fight. It's sick. It's Richard Nixon and the obstruction of justice, it's Watergate, it's General Custer and the heartbreak of psoriasis.

In 59 professional fights, Earnie Shavers had never gone beyond 10 rounds. He was such an underdog that even the oddsmakers in Las Vegas didn't make any odds.

Doesn't the fact Shavers lasted the entire fight tell you something?

ROUND ONE — Ali did not land one single punch or jab to the body of Shavers. Shavers connected on a couple of lead rights. He should have won the round but instead, Ali gets it, according to the majority rule of the judges and ring official.

ROUND TWO — Shavers hurt Ali with a crushing right, the champ was actually staggered. Shavers was pulled off and told to back up. Shavers gets the round, according to Brandon and the rest.

ROUND THREE — Shavers was not aggressive enough but Ali had only one or two jabs land and they glanced off the top of the "acorn." The round was even according to me but Ali got it according to the judges.

ROUND FOUR — Near the end of the round, Ali was again stunned by Shavers. Ali continued to paw and feel out Shavers with a straight-arm right. Shavers should have won the round, he didn't though.

ROUND FIVE — Maybe Ali won it. He threw a flurry of punches but only one or two penetrated the gloves of Shavers, whose defense resembled the famous "peek-a-boo" style of Floyd Patterson. The three official scorers give it to Ali.

ROUND SIX — Ali was tired and lying on the ropes. Not only that, he was holding and clinching to Shavers. Shavers was smart and did not fall for the rope-a-dope tactics. Shavers got the round in my book and in the book of those scoring it.

ROUND SEVEN — Count them, if they ever make it into a movie. There were three solid rights landed by Shavers. Ali had five jabs and one combination in the round...everyone of them hit the gloves of Shavers. Brandon says Shavers, the rest say Ali.

ROUND EIGHT — Even Ali, who wanted to put Shavers away in the seventh or eighth, kept missing during his flurry. Judges gave the round to Ali.

ROUND NINE — Shavers did not punch much. Ali did. If Ali gets points for hitting gloves, I'll get in the ring with him. Judges Ali, Brandon even.

ROUND 10 — Only one left jab out of about a dozen got in. The punches looked fine on the tube but the camera always stayed on Shavers' back. If you watched very closely, you could see the jabs by Ali did not land. The round was about even, with my edge going to Shavers. The majority says Ali.

ROUND 11 — Ali swept the scoring and it was a sweeping of the stockade to boot. In other words, bull... The jabs did not land, regardless of what they said on NBC. If the jabs did land, you could have seen Shavers' acorn popping back a bit more and moisture flying up from the impact. I say the round should have gone to Shavers.

ROUND 12 — By this time, it's over. Both corners have tv information and according to what's on the screen, there's no way Shavers can win the fight because he's behind more rounds than there are left. Shavers was the aggressor and should have won the round. Ali's jabs missed. The round was given to Ali.

ROUND 13 — Believe it or not, I finally agree with the majority. Everyone gives the round to Shavers. Frankly, I think Ali got his jaw broken in this round. I called it back in 1973 when Norton broke Ali's jaw early in the second round.

If you heard a loud snap or a pop when Shavers once landed a right with Ali against the ropes, it wasn't the gloves. It wasn't a coke cup either. Ali's eyes gave it away. If his jaw wasn't broken, then something was because the look let Ali down. Also, Ali kept his right high for the rest of the fight.

ROUND 14 — Again, no doubt. Shavers won this one. Twice in the round, Ali was stunned and on wobbly legs. The "slip" when Ali hit the canvass may not have been a slip. It might have been a "wobbledown."

Shavers gets the round from everyone.

ROUND 15 — The fifteen is symbolic. It's the combined IQ of the people scoring the fight. Shavers knew the round would be decisive, his people in his corner told him he was winning. What else could they tell the man!!!

The round may have been one of the most exciting ever. Both fighters tried to kill each other. Both landed good punches and for once, Ali had a couple of lead rights slam into the gap between Shaver's gloves.

The round was close. Ali got it according to the majority, I called it a slim edge for Shavers.

My scorecard: I clearly saw Shavers winning nine rounds. Give Ali the even rounds and the ones where Shavers had a slight edge and the challenger still wins.

Several people laughed at my column the other day. I said if the fight did go 15, Shavers would win it on a split decision. That sounded silly since had never been beyond 10 rounds in his life.

My actual prediction was Ali would go out a winner. I felt he'd probably stop Shavers in seven or eight. But I called it right in a couple of ways. Ali did go out a winner and as far as the split decision in 15 rounds, it should have been.

There were a lot of boos when the decision was announced.

So it ends. Ali may never fight again. He wants 12 million to fight the Norton-Young winner. Norton will win that one.

There will be a problem raising 12 million because Ali just isn't worth it. But wait a minute...

How about this one for a promotion?

Bert Lance will go to the Calhoun Bank and get an overdraft to promote the fight. Old Bert owes six million bucks and so we might be able to call him the "minus six million dollar man."

Since Bert did so well fighting the committee hearings, he will decide to go into the ring himself against Ali.

Can't you see it? The next heavyweight fight? The Bionic Banker takes on the Bionic Bragger.

'Peay Could Be Tough For Eastern

By The Associated Press
Eastern Kentucky faces an early test in defense of its Ohio Valley Conference football title Saturday when the Colonels host Austin Peay in Richmond, Ky.

Eastern and Austin Peay take identical 2-1 overall records and 1-0 conference marks into the game. Eastern came from a 34-10 deficit to edge East Tennessee 38-34 last weekend while Austin Peay drilled Western Kentucky 21-3.

In other league games, Morehead State, 1-1-1, visits Murray, 1-2, and East Tennessee, 0-3, calls on Western Kentucky, 0-3, in a match of OVC tailenders. In non-conference games, Tennessee Tech, 3-0, is at Nebraska-Omaha and Middle Tennessee, 0-3, is at Chattanooga.

"Anytime you hold a Western Kentucky team to just three points, your defense has played a heck of a game," said Eastern Kentucky Coach Roy Kidd in assessing Austin Peay. "They have a fine tackle in James Green and Bob Bible is an outstanding linebacker."

The APSU defensive unit will be tested by an Eastern Kentucky team which ran up a school-record 662 yards against East Tennessee. The Colonels also set a school rushing mark with 510 yards.

Tailback Stan Mitchell scored three touchdowns and gained 172 yards in just nine carries.

The way things are going, Western Kentucky might be happy just scoring a touchdown against East Tennessee. The Hilltoppers, mired in the deepest slump of Coach Jimm Feix's career, have scored but single field goals in three season-opening losses.

"We're still stopping ourselves so much of the time... fumbles, dropped passes and penalties really just choked off our offense, particularly in the second half" against Austin Peay, said Feix.

East Tennessee, he noted, has such excellent running backs in Greg Wilson and Jimmy Dykes that ETSU Coach Roy Frazier "took one of the OVC's best ball carriers of the past two years, George Fugate, and made a linebacker out of him."

Yanks Still One Win Away From Clinching Title

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees are in a holding position ... and Earl Weaver is in a hoping position.

"People can still say Billy Martin hasn't won two championships in a row," says the manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Weaver's reference is an obvious needle aimed at the New York Yankees manager, who has laid claim to the American League East title, when in truth it is not officially his yet.

The Yankees lost a chance to lock it up Thursday night, dropping a 4-1 decision to the Cleveland Indians while Weaver's Orioles and the Boston Red Sox stayed mathematically alive by winning their games. The Red Sox defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 7-3 while the Orioles stopped the Detroit Tigers 6-3.

"That was a funny quote," said Weaver, referring to a statement by Martin that is getting more notoriety by the day. After the Yankees clinched a tie for the East title with a victory over Cleveland Wednesday night, the New York manager said that he could now be credited with two consecutive division titles in the same city. The Yankees won the AL East last year and Martin had won two others, with Minnesota and Detroit.

The Orioles open a three-game series with the Red Sox tonight. Each team must hope for a sweep, and for the Yankees to lose their three-game set with Detroit, otherwise Martin's premature announcement will be a reality before the weekend is over.

In other AL games Thursday night, the Kansas City Royals defeated the California Angels 6-3 and the Seattle Mariners nipped the Texas Rangers 2-1.

Wayne Garland's six-hitter led Cleveland's victory over New York. Garland, one of last winter's free agents who signed a 10-year contract with Cleveland, posted his 13th triumph in 32 decisions and took some solace after a disastrous campaign by averting a 20th setback.

Orioles 6, Tigers 3

Rookie Eddie Murray drove in four runs, Ken Singleton had a two-run homer and Rudy May won his 18th game in Baltimore's victory over Detroit. It was the 19th triumph in the last 25 games for the Orioles, who took the season series from Detroit by a 12-3 margin.

Red Sox 7, Blue Jays 3

American League slugging leader Jim Rice drove in four runs with his 39th homer and a sacrifice fly to power Boston over Toronto. Rice's three-run blast in the fourth inning rallied Boston from a 2-0 deficit and not only boosted his home run lead, but gave him 376 total bases for the year, the most by an American League slugger since Mickey Mantle had the same number in 1956.

Royals 6, Angels 3

Larry Gura and Doug Bird combined on a seven-hitter as Kansas City defeated California. Gura, 8-5, gave up six hits, struck out four and walked none before needing ninth-inning relief help from Bird.

The Royals, with every starter in the lineup getting a hit, became the first team in the majors to win 100 games and tied the New York Mets' record for victories by an expansion team.

Mariners 2, Rangers 1

Julio Cruz' run-scoring single in the ninth propelled Seattle over Texas, spoiling Doyle Alexander's bid for his 18th victory.

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

It wasn't the best of ways for Steve Carlton and Tommy John to prepare for the National League playoffs, but nobody is about to panic.

The two pitching stars may have gotten clobbered Thursday night, but don't expect it to happen when they oppose each other in the opening game of the National League playoffs next Tuesday.

Carlton, the 23-game winner of the Philadelphia Phillies, was racked for four runs in the first inning as the Montreal Expos beat the Phils 7-2. And John, the Los Angeles Dodgers' 20-game winner, was reached for 10 hits and four runs in six innings as the Houston Astros defeated the Dodgers 4-2.

"Don't worry about him," said Carlton's designated catcher on the Phils, Tim McCarver. "He had good stuff. It's just like we wouldn't get overly excited if he pitched a three-hitter. He threw as well as ever."

John, meanwhile, said, "I was out there trying to win. But at the same time, I wanted to work on a few pitches. I was trying to throw a lot of breaking pitches because against the Phillies you have to use everything in your arsenal."

"I have to think we are as evenly matched as two teams can be," John added. "It could be a series of breaks, taking advantage of a passed ball, a hit-and-run, an error."

In the only other National League game played Thursday night, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets 5-2.

Expos 7, Phils 4

Carlton's troubles started when a group of Marines had trouble hoisting the flag in pregame ceremonies at Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium. Manager Danny Ozark finally had to help out.

"Steve waited for 10 minutes and through two national anthems (the Canadian and American)," Ozark said. "Sitting around like that could bother anybody. If a pitcher has that kind of delay, someone might score 10 runs."

The Expos only got four, two of them on a single by Larry Parrish, but that was enough to beat Carlton, 23-10. The left-hander settled down and held Montreal scoreless until leaving the game in the eighth.

Astros 4, Dodgers 2

Bob Watson belted a two-run homer in the fifth inning for the big blow off John, 20-7. It was Watson's 21st home run of the season and gave him 108 runs batted in, a Houston club record.

Floyd Bannister and Gene Pentz combined on a five-hitter for the Astros, but Pentz gave up a home run to the Dodgers' Steve Garvey. It was Garvey's 33rd home run of the year, the most by a player since the club moved to Los Angeles after the 1958 season.

Pirates 5, Mets 2

Phil Garner had two singles and a triple, drove in two runs and scored one as the Pirates beat ex-teammate Doc Medich, making his first start for the Mets.

Terry Forster, 6-4, recently moved from the bullpen to the starting rotation, got the victory with ninth-inning relief help from Kent Tekulve.

Let's Stay Well Fluoridation Of Public Water Supply Doesn't Cause Allergies

By F.J.L. Blasigame, M.D.

Q. Mr. H. G. writes that he is allergic and asks whether his allergies could be caused by or made worse from the fluoridation of the public water supply.

He adds, "I think that I can taste the fluoride in my drinking water and wonder if it contains too much of this chemical."

Finally, he wants to know if fluoridation aids only children's teeth.

A. Medical literature contains no reliable information to show that fluoridation of the public water supply causes or worsens any allergies. In fact, sometime ago, the American Academy of Allergy issued a policy statement as follows: "There is no evidence of allergy or intolerance to fluoride as used in the fluoridation of community water supplies."

The amount of fluoride added to public water is carefully controlled at safe levels, even though you may think that you are able to detect its odor or taste in your public water. You are more likely smelling or tasting chlorine which may be added to your water.

The benefits of fluoridation of the public drinking water to teeth are not limited to children. Many studies show that such benefits continue throughout life. In fact, some investigations indicated that fluoridation makes the bones of adults more resistant to fractures and that their healing is quicker and stronger when the victims have been regularly consuming fluoridated drinking water.

If you have not already done so, I suggest that you consult your physician or an allergist to determine the causes of your allergies. I believe that you will find the causes to be from sources other than your drinking water.

RECKLINGHAUSEN'S DISEASE AND MALIGNANCIES

Q. Ms. D. S., a victim of von Recklinghausen's disease (neurofibromatosis), called my attention to a statement made by me in an earlier article in which she feels that I was inaccurate in saying that this disease seldom becomes malignant. Her experience has been to the contrary. She has developed several malignancies related to her case of this disease.

A. I appreciate having this matter called to my attention. In spite of every effort always to be accurate, I erred in writing about this disease, depending too much on my own experience rather than on what has been written by others who have observed malignant changes.

I have searched the literature on von Recklinghausen's disease through a medical library and find that malignant changes have been reported to occur in 5 per cent to 16 per cent of the cases.

One of the common manifestations of von Recklinghausen's disease is a few or many firm tumors appearing in the skin at various sites over the body.

The pessimist can hardly wait for the future to get here so he can look back with regret. The "bad news syndrome" of our day is an incubator for cynicism, defeatism, fatalism, and pessimism.

Approximately ninety-five per cent of juvenile crime is committed by only five per cent of the juvenile population. But, the influence of this very small minority is exploded all out of proportion. Think not? The word "juvenile" is a good word. But, it has been attached to delinquency so much that it is hardly used in any other context. It is the juvenile delinquent who makes the headlines and the lead story on TV. How about the ninety-five per cent who are, by and large, law abiding, wholesome, and productive young people.

When you and I act like we were both in crabapple season, suck on dull pickles, and eat a steady diet of persimmons, we are part and parcel of the gloom and doom personality of so much of society. One who has found abundant living, and is living to live forever, has neither the time nor the inclination to exercise himself in futility and making more bad news.

Christ can turn your life right side out. (John 3:3-8 cf. II Corinthians 5:17). He alone can provide the goal of life. (Philippians 3:13,14)

It's the greatest thing in the world to be a Christian.

The Game of Life

Many have compared the game of football to the game of life and there are many similarities. In both cases, those who plan a good strategy are more successful in achieving their goals. Yet the game of life is far more complex. Football is fairly predictable. A particular strategy will produce a particular result. In life this is not always so. As Robert Burns expressed it, "The best laid plans of mice and men oftentimes go awry".

How then, can we face the uncertainties of life?

A firm faith and belief in God is the answer for many people. They know that they cannot control their fate, but they do know that they can face it more courageously when God is with them. Make God a part of your life.

The week of October 2 KET inaugurates its fall schedule of "A Common Wealth of Programs" with (clockwise, from 12 o'clock) Robin Hood, beginning on "Once Upon A Classic" Oct. 6; Seiji Ozawa conducting on "Evening At Symphony" Oct. 2; "Iowa," the Oct. 2 premiere of "Visions" comedian Mark Russell returning on Oct. 4; Twyla Tharp and Mikhail Baryshnikov in "Making Television Dance" Oct. 4; and, "The Marriage of Figaro" on Oct. 5, beginning five weeks of opera on "Great Performances."

A rock group that has been around for nearly ten years ironically has released their tenth album entitled, "Going For The One". The group—the fantastic "Yes."

Yes has gone through several changes over the years but the best new occurred in November of 1976 when the famous solo concept artist, Rick Wakeman rejoined the group after a three year absence. At first Rick was only going to help in a recording session but finally once again became a permanent Yes man. As group manager Brian Lane noted at the time, "Rick needed this time to find his true direction, and Yes also needed this time to find their true direction, but after three years, they have come to the ultimate realization that their directions are unified once again. They each simply took different paths to reach the same point."

The group at the present time consists of Jon Anderson, Chris Squire, Steve Howe, Alan White, and Rick Wakeman.

The new LP consists of only five tracks in which one of them, "Awaken" is a fifteen minute work. The single from the LP is "Going For The One" which is a fast hard rocker, in fact, it may be a little too heavy. Steve Howe is great on the electric guitar on all tracks and the LP is self produced by the group.

"Turn of the Century" proves Jon Anderson does a great job on the vocals while Wakeman proves himself on the piano and electric keyboards. "Wondrous Stories" is very melodic and makes good use of Wakeman's polymog and Steve Howe's vachalia.

"Awaken" is a fifteen minute opus in two parts. "One of the most unusual recording tactics about this work, is that Rick Wakeman journeyed to St. Martin's Church in Switzerland to use their organ, and the sound was piped several miles back to the studio and the rest of the group through a sophisticated phone line connection."

Overall the album has different interesting sounds. This may not be great for some listeners but to many fans, the album is the cream of the crop of Yes.

Little River Band The Australian group has released another LP called "Diamantina Cocktail." There are a few good cuts like "Help is On The Way," "Take Me Home" and "Every Day Of My Life." Overall it is a fair album but it is destined for oblivion.

New Releases Both Linda Ronstadt and Chicago have released new albums. Heart has a new album on their old record label called "Magazine." Be looking out for a deluge of new releases from now to Christmas including a new Boston album.

Wickliffe-Cairo Bridge Job Delayed

WICKLIFFE, Ky. (AP) — A bridge job to help far western Kentucky farmers get grain to market will not be done this week as hoped, officials say.

Gov. Julian Carroll agreed to pay Ruby Construction Co. of Louisville $83,010 to speed work on the Ohio River Bridge near Wickliffe.

Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson said Thursday the reflowing has not gone far enough to reopen two lanes for grain carriers Saturday as planned.

Under the agreement, the company now must pay the state $600 for each working day the bridge is closed to grain carriers after that.

One lane is now open, but 1st District highway engineer Robert Hodges said vehicles wider than eight feet cannot pass, which eliminates grain carriers wider than a pickup truck.

Hodges said the contractor blamed labor disputes for the delay on the second lane.

The bridge is the only one on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers between Paducah and Caruthersville, Mo.

Large vehicles must now detour more than 75 miles at Wickliffe to reach Cairo, Ill., less than 10 miles away.

Carroll made the agreement after Rep. Ward Burnette, D-Fulton, and others said farmers on the lower Ohio River and the Mississippi River would face excessive delivery costs if denied full use of the bridge at Wickliffe.

Wickliffe is the county seat of Ballard County, where most of the Kentucky grain marketed in southern Illinois is grown.

Western Kentucky corn is ready for market, though only a small part of the area's soybean crop has been harvested.

John Watts, farm agent in Fulton County, west of the bridge, said grain marketing will peak about mid-October.

Burnette said he has been told by state transportation officials that the bridge "probably can be opened during the second week in October."

Grayson said, "Everything possible is being done to get the bridge ready for two-way traffic at the earliest possible moment."

Sunday School will be at 10:00 a.m. with nursery provided and classes for all ages.

The Youth Group will meet at 6:00 p.m.

Johnson, 1709 Johnson Blvd. A junior at Murray High School and a student of Prof. David Nelson at the university, she will be accompanied on the piano for part of the program by Janwyn Overstreet, a junior music major from Paducah. By JEFFREY MILLS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is giving President Carter approval to produce the neutron bomb, a new atomic weapon that opponents fear will greatly increase the risk of all-out nuclear war.

The House of Representatives on Thursday approved an authorization bill to enable the President to spend money for the neutron bomb if he chooses to do so. The Senate previously approved a similar bill.

The neutron bomb is a small warhead that would be placed on Lance missiles and artillery shells. It produces twice the deadly radiation of a conventional nuclear bomb but less than a tenth as much explosive power, heat and fallout. This means the bomb can kill people while causing little damage to buildings.

The warhead is designed to replace the approximately 7,000 nuclear warheads now deployed in Europe.

Carter has not announced whether he intends to approve production of the controversial weapon, but he did ask for the authorization that both houses have now granted.

The key House vote came on an amendment by Rep. Ted Weiss, D-N.Y. The amendment would have blocked Energy Research and Development Administration money from being used for the neutron bomb. But the amendment was defeated 297 to 109.

Weiss and his supporters said the neutron bomb would "lower the threshold" to nuclear war. They said military leaders might feel less inhibited about using the neutron bomb since it has less destructive power than large-scale nuclear weapons. That could make it easier to introduce nuclear weapons into an altercation that could touch off a nuclear holocaust, opponents said.

"I am frightened to death of this weapon," said Rep. Ron Dellums, D-Calif. "Once you start down the road to a nuclear war, there is no turning back. Once we make nuclear war thinkable, we make it possible, and once we make it possible we make it inevitable."

But supporters of the weapon said the neutron bomb is preferable to conventional nuclear weapons since it is less destructive to property.

Rep. Bob Carr, D-Mich., said the neutron bomb "will give the President the option of using a less destructive weapon" than conventional nuclear bombs. Carr called the neutron bomb "a morally practical weapon" when compared to what it will replace.

PURDOM and THURMAN REAL ESTATE

FLEXIBLE MORTGAGE
There's a new type of mortgage loan on the horizon which would tailor the payment schedule to the borrower's needs and abilities. Instead of level payments for the life of the loan payments could be smaller for one period and larger for another period depending on your future earning prospects. Under the proposed regulations, the borrower and lender would negotiate the repayment schedule as long as each payment would cover interest costs and would be on a fully amortized basis after eight years. Thus a young couple could arrange smaller payments during the initial years of the term or an elderly couple could have smaller payments following retirement. As an example, take a 30-year mortgage where the normal monthly payment would be $220. Using the flexible payment plan, the borrower could pay as little as $200 per month for the first eight years, then $240 for the remainder of the term. When - or if - this plan becomes effective, you'll read about it right here. Consulting with people about their real estate needs is our specialty. Drop by Purdom & Thurman on the court square or call Pat Mobley 753-4451 or 753-8958. We're here to help!

Kentucky Budget Hearings Slated

FRANKFORT—Kentucky Dam Village State Park at Gilbertsville will be the site for one of 11 budget hearings to be conducted throughout Kentucky during October, Gov. Julian Carroll announced.

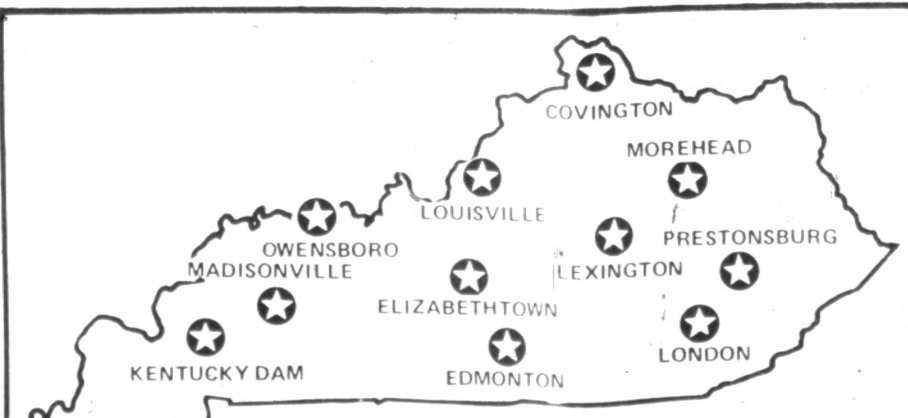

"We have scheduled these sessions because we want to inform citizens of the current status of state government programs and to hear their ideas for the future direction of state government," said Gov. Carroll.

The hearings will consist of presentations by the Governor's cabinet secretaries and a multi-media program on state government. The secretaries will talk about current programs, budget priorities, and will solicit citizens' ideas concerning the 1978-80 Executive Budget. The Kentucky Dam Village hearing will be in the park building adjacent to the post office at 1 p.m., October 18. Kentucky Department of Justice Secretary John Smith will preside.

Gov. Carroll said the hearings will give taxpayers an opportunity to participate in the budgetary process. "After all," he noted, "the taxpayers, the citizens of this Commonwealth, are the ones who foot the bill for services and programs."

Ideas gathered at the hearings will be considered as the Governor prepares his 1978-80 Executive Budget for presentation to the 1978 General Assembly. The 1976-78 Executive Budget was $5.8 billion.

BUDGET HEARING SITES — These are the 11 locations for Gov. Julian Carroll's state budget hearings scheduled during October. The Governor's Cabinet secretaries will be meeting with Kentuckians to inform them on the current status of state government and to get their ideas on future directions for state government. Comments and suggestions will be considered as the state's budget proposal for 1978-80 is prepared for presentation to the 1978 General Assembly.

Daviess County Tax Bills Delayed; 'Not Broke Yet,' Tanner Says

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Daviess County is taking austerity steps because of a delay in mailing tax bills, but County Judge Pat Tanner says, "We are not going broke."

In fact, Tanner said Thursday, "Daviess County probably ranks with the highest in the state (in financial stability)."

Earlier in the week, County Treasurer Patty Ward said "If they keep spending without sending the tax bills... we can last about two more paydays."

She said "About $389,000 is all we can raise from reserves." But Tanner said the county has more than that to draw on.

The county will receive about $190,000 in federal revenue sharing funds in October, has about $50,000 earned in interest in the bank, and soon expects about $50,000 from the state as its share of truck licenses and taxes, he said.

Another $80,000 that was designated for hiring the unemployed "can be used if the county would run out of money," Tanner said.

He did say county schools "are in a bind." He noted that the state has been advancing the county funds since July from the 30 cents in school taxes it collects directly from the sheriff.

County School Supt. George Overstreet said, "The situation will cause problems," but the school system will be able to pay bills for six to eight weeks without new tax money.

Ten churches will be presented at the special program with the presiding elder, the Rev. M.L. Easley, to speak at three p.m.

Services will be held at eleven a.m. with local officials to be on the program. A basket dinner will follow the morning service at noon.

The public is invited to attend, a church spokesman said.
